Morning Message

Dehna aderachu! (Amharic - Ethiopia)
Welcome to the start of another new week of Home Learning, Year 5!
Wish you could go out, fly up into the sky and travel anywhere in the world?
Today you can discover the wonderful world of Ethiopia! It's home to the highest mountain in Africa; the spectacular Blue Nile Falls; buildings made right in rock (rock hewn); injera flatbreads and amazing tribes. Be transported away to Africa...

Writing

Today you will be giving Kit your first solution. We want to see carefully selected modal verbs but also that wonderful approachable and conversational tone that you all established so wonderfully last week. We were fur-ry impressed!

Please see your lesson here and the vocabulary sheet and typed model here.

Reading

Happy Monday Year 5! Today we are studying a new text- 'Journey to Joburg'. As this is day 1 of reading, we will be focusing on vocabulary! You can find the lesson here . If you do want the worksheet and text, it can be found here and here, however there is no need to print anything if you do not want to as the work you produced last week was of a very high quality still! 😊 Answers are provided within the video so please ensure you self-mark your work before uploading to Seesaw!

Mathematics

Good morning, Year 5!
Today we are going to Review some of the work that we covered last week. You will definitely need your times tables knowledge to help you, so we hope you are ready.

Enjoy!

Foundation Subject-Geography

For the next two weeks, we are going to take a break from science (fear not we will resume after half-term) in order to complete a really interesting geography unit on biomes and climates! Find the lesson here- Enjoy 😊

Question for the day

What do you look forward to when you wake up?

Weekly Spellings

Find this week's spellings here. Today, make sure to spend some time looking at the definition of each word in this online dictionary
