

Morning Message

Ni Hao, Year 5!

If you want to learn more Mandarin (one of the languages they speak in China), then click here.

We hope you had a restful weekend and are ready for the learning ahead. There are many exciting things planned for you today: from 'dancing raisins' to Chatterboxes: lots to keep you busy!

Ready? Set? GO!

Writing

Hello authors!

Today you'll be writing the first paragraph of your first-person narrative. Please access your lesson here and the model paragraphs and vocabulary here.

Please remember to edit your work carefully before uploading to Seesaw

Reading

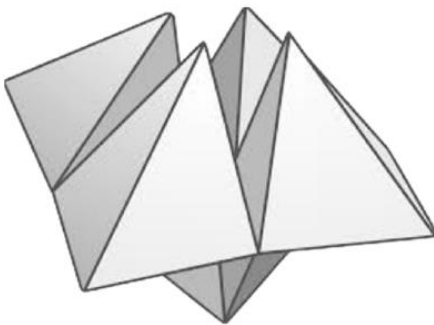

'Suffrage'

Read the extract of Emmeline Pankhurst's speech about the right to vote here.

Answers are here.

Mathematics

Fractions!

Do Now: Carefully make a Chatterbox then join the lesson. You will need a square piece of paper (at least 10cm long – preferably 20cms long).

When you have completed that, come and join the lesson here.

Science

States of Matter

Today, we are going to look at the difference between solid, liquids and gas. There's also an exciting experiment that you can try out, too!

Come and can watch the lesson here.

Question for the day

If you could travel back in time, which time period would you visit and why?

Weekly Spellings
