Morning Message

Another day of fantastic work Year 6 (and WELL DONE for all those dance moves!) – keep it up!

Outdoor Learning and Spanish for you today as well as all your favourites!

Remember to attend your class briefings on teams. Your morning briefing is at 8.40am and your afternoon briefing is at 2.00pm. We are really looking forward to seeing you online. If you don't have a link, ask your adult to email info@arkfranklinprimary.org.

Have a wonderful day!

Writing

Yesterday's diary entries were the BEST yet though please do make sure you are watching the whole video through (particularly the feedback on other children's work) so that you are learning from your mistakes! That's what helps us make the best progress!

Find today's lesson here. Thank you to all the children who politely alerted me to yesterday's technology fail; hopefully there'll be no such issues today 😊

Commonly misspelt words! 😞

Dear Diary,
It's Con. And It's also 4 in the morning. I woke up with an anteater ~~licking some weird bugs off me~~. I strongly doubt that the anteater will be seen near the clearing ever again. But what is really ~~freaking me~~ out are the claw marks. I looked at a nearby log, and saw gashes that almost ripped clean through the log. ~~Who~~ they weren't there yesterday! We all think it was a jaguar except Max, who reckons it was the cookie monster. He thinks that it's that because it didn't eat us. He said it didn't eat us because we weren't cookies. So I said: where would you find cookies in the Amazon rainforest? Well, the claw marks were probably there already, and Thank goodness I survived that plane crash. Being dead would have been way better. I feel like I am burning in the fire right now. My scratches and bruises are crying from pain. ~~My friend~~ (Fred) said that things would get better in the morning- I believe that. So, I have something I need to tell you that when I was wondering around in the forest I saw footprints; they looked like footprints. I'm not sure.

~~Don't think I am scared I'm not it's just weird in it.~~
Never mind, I got to go relax after that plane crash.

Reading

This week in reading, we will continue reading The Explorer: today's lesson will focus on answering questions based on evidence from the text.

The video for the lesson can be found here. A copy of the text can be found here, and your activity can be found in the description underneath the video – to be used after you've finished watching the video.

Please ensure that you mark and correct your answers before uploading – learning from your mistakes is how you progress rapidly!

Mathematics

Today, we are going to be doing our first lesson on PIE CHARTS. In order to be successful in this lesson you will need to be confident converting between common fractions and percentages. If you are not 100% confident with this, please use this table to support you (and then learn the facts from the table!)

Please watch today's video here. It is split into two sections, both of which must be completed so make sure you watch the whole video 😊

The worksheet for today's work can be found here.

Question for the day

What do you look forward to when you wake up?

What makes you happy?

Weekly Spellings

Yesterday's spelling words to practise today! Here is the link to today's spelling sheet.

Please write out the word in a sentence or write the definition of the word.

We will have a spelling test on the new words on Friday.
