Dear Parents

A very special morning at Franklin today with a visit from David Walliams!

He read to us from some of his wonderful books: the children were amazed and amused. Thank you to two of our parents for helping to make this happen and a special thank you to David Walliams for accepting the invitation; afterwards he commented on what an amazing audience and how confident our children are.

Headteacher's thought for the week:
Mistakes are the portals of discovery

Yesterday we had our Bring a Parent to School day, feedback back has been incredibly positive and hearing parent views at the forum in the dining room afterwards was very helpful.

Last week letters went home for our parent's evenings on the 12th and 13th February. Please ensure you take this opportunity to come in and catch up with your child's class teacher and find out how you can further support their learning at home.

Have a wonderful weekend: enjoy the snow.

Warmest regards
Janine Ryan
