Franklin Times 9th November 2018

Dear Parents

An exciting week for year three who all visited Sacro Cuore to make pizzas: thank you so much to Adam and the team for generously welcoming the children.

Polite reminder that some of our children find dogs intimidating and though we allow them onto the playgrounds on a lead, they are NOT permitted in the building. Thank you.

The residents of Kempe Road are very unhappy with parents double parking outside their homes and blocking them in, can I remind you it is illegal to do so and very dangerous for our children trying to cross the road safely; Brent will ticket your vehicles.

It is wonderful that so many children are scooting to school, but please ensure scooters are clearly labelled and that you take the correct one home at the end of the day.

We are currently consulting on admissions to Ark Franklin from 2020, please read the proposal via this link to our website:

Preface

This book is not about heroes. English Poetry is not yet fit to speak of them. Nor is it about deeds or lands, nor anything about glory, honour, dominion or power, except War.

Above all, this book is not concerned with Poetry. The subject of it is War, and the pity of War. The Poetry is in the pity. Yet these elegies are not to this generation, This is in no sense consolatory.

They may be to the next.
All the poet can do to-day is to warn.
That is why the true Poets must be truthful.
If I thought the letter of this book would last,
I might have used proper names; but if the spirit of it survives Prussia, -- my ambition and those names will be content; for they will have achieved themselves fresher fields than Flanders.

Wilfred Owen
